The bio's are well written, the photographs are clear and the overall book is really enjoyable. I've been going back enjoying reading and enjoying the photo's over and over. I've been inspired to expand my quilting horizons. Also to get back into doll making. Thank you "African American Quilt and Doll Guild" for your inspiration. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. It exceeded my expectations. I was a member of ...By Arlene M. Hinson It exceeded my expectations. I was a member of guild with these remarkable women. This publication continues to inspire me. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. what a beautiful collection of quilts By julia hutchinson what a beautiful collection of quilts. A wonderful tribute to quilters all over. A lover of quilts and fiber art.

Inspirations, Visions, and Traditions in Fiber Arts is a glance into a modern-day group of African American quilters and dollmakers who have joined together to create and enjoy Fiber Arts. This collection of beautiful quilts and dolls will lead you to turn page after page as you share the vision these artists have brought to fruition. Their personal stories will enable you to understand their fiery passion for the art. Because local guilds did not seem to understand the Black perspective, The African American Quilt and Doll Guild became a safe place for artists to freely express themselves and incorporate the history and stories stored in the hearts of African American fiber artists. They found the freedom to incorporate a different perspective of color, design and African Art in quilts. They have also used that same love of color to create Black cloth dolls that reflect the Black experiences in their lives and those of their families. The African American Quilt and Doll Guild and its Storyteller members, honor Africans and African Americans by telling the history through quilts and dolls. The artistic images will grab your attention and a knowing smile will grace your lips when you sit back, relax and enjoy the craftsmanship of the artists.
