iiiiireader[[VIDEOID:3c9f488770f2b2f3c56f199cd27c175d]]Inspiring Moments is a really fun coloring book for me. I really like folk art designs and mid-century modern and the hand-drawn designs in this book have elements of both. The illustrations are by artist Chanelle Correia. There are both activity pages and coloring pages. There are seasonal and holiday designs as well as 18 pages of biblical based designs. The activity pages are the first four in the book and are made up of items which you can color and punch out (and have holes at the top to make them easy to hang.) The activity pages are made up of inspiring words, birds, crosses, and hearts. While the designs are detailed in nature, they are not overly intricate and have an open and flowing feel to them. While the book has some Christian based designs, there are many more than are more general in nature. It is a good book for someone who wants to get both in one source. The scriptures used in this book are primarily from two sources, The Holy Bible New Living Translation and The Holy Bible New International version. There was definitely thought and consideration put into the publishing of this coloring book. It is an unusual size more like European paper size in that it is longer and narrower than our paper in the US. Both the designs and the activity pages are printed on one side of the page. The activity pages are heavyweight cardstock with a glossy surface. The regular coloring pages are a thinner cardstock with a smooth paper surface. The book has a heavy cardboard back that functions as a flat table when you are coloring. The designs stop before the binding which is the type of glued binding that allows you to pull out a page at a time. Not perforated but works well in removing pages. The book lies flat when I open it. All of alcohol-based and water-based markers bled through or left a color shadow on the back of the regular coloring pages. My Tombow water based brush pens needed a much longer drying time than normal. I found it out when I smeared some color across the page that I had picked up with the side of my hand. Nothing bled through the activity pages. Gel pens and Indian ink artist pens did not bleed through either papers and the gel pens required a longer drying time than usual. Coloring pencils worked on both styles but were much lighter in nature on the activity pages (probably due to the glossy surface.) These are the coloring medium that I use for testing. If there is something else you feel I should be testing, please let me know and I will see if I can add it to my growing pile:

Markers: 1) alcohol-based Copic Sketch, Prismacolor double ended markers (brush and fine point), Sharpies (fine and ultra-fine) Bic Mark-its (fine and ultra-fine) and 2) water-based Tombows dual end markers (brush and fine point), Stabilo 88, Staedler triplus fineliners, and Pentel markers

India Ink: Faber-Castell PITT artist pens (brush tip)

Gel Pens: Sakura, Fiskars, Uni-ball Signo in the following sizes - 0.28/0.38/0.5/1.0 and Tekwriter

Coloring Pencils: Prismacolor Premier Soft Core, Derwent Colorsoft, Prismacolor Verithins, and Faber-Castell Polychromos

Easy to remove pages

By Jackie Cooper

Every single illustration in this unique and well made coloring book is imaginative and filled with original art, by a well known artist Chanelle Correia. The illustrations are charming, whimsical and in a hand drawn style. This book includes a combination of both Christian and General themes. You will find charming full paged images filled with scenes and/or patterns that include Flowers, Fruit, Birds, Angels, Crosses, Ice cream sundaes, Cup Cakes, Hot air balloons, even a fish swimming, Words of hope, plus a delightful illustration of Noahs Ark, A mother and daughter, A father and son, plus many more. This coloring book is going into my personal coloring library for sharing with my grandchildren. They are going to love making a mobile with the punch outs, and for quality family time the pages are wide enough for two of us to color the same picture, plus the themed pages with delightful art, Christian and family themed pages are perfect for fun conversations with the children.

1. This large rectangular (11 14 wide x 8 high) coloring book is unique.

a. The covers and all 52 coloring pages are made of light weight card stock paper.

b. Inside the back cover a very sturdy, heavy 1/8 thick, sheet of gray cardboard is added, this is a solid coloring base, I did not need my clipboard to sit comfortably in my chair and color the first page in this book.

c. The first 4 pages are made of heavy weight card stock and include 25 punch outs, with a hole in the top on each for hanging, all for you to color. The punch outs include 4 adorned crosses, 5 with inspiring words (Prayer changes things, Hope, Faith, Love, Peace) 8 adorned hearts, and 8 whimsical birds in a hand drawn style)

d. But there is even more, all of the pages are glued to the binding so that you can easily remove a single page from the book for coloring.

e. 19 of the 52 coloring pages include inspirational text and include prayers, psalms and even some with only one simple yet powerful word like Hope, Genesis.

2. Printed on bright white, light weight card stock, one picture per page (the back of each page is blank)

3. All the acid based markers I tested bled through the paper or left ghosting on the back of the page. Markers Included Sharpies, and Bic Mark it

4. Some of the water based markers do not bleed through the paper, including Staedtler Triplus Fineliners and fibre tipped markers and Tom Bow Double tipped markers the brush end.

5. My colored pencils Prisma color soft core, Derwent, and Crayola worked ok, the color lays down smoothly and in bright color but the paper is smooth so only a couple layers are possible so this is a nice book for coloring with colored pencils but not for colored pencil techniques.

6. The paper does not have much tooth but works for my grandchildren to use their crayola water paints on the pages with any buckling

7. This book lies flat but the pages to have a tendency to come loose easily as this book is made for page removal.

8. I am adding some of my favorite pages to help you decide if this book is just right for you.

By Mim of Six

There isn't much more that I can say that Jackie Cooper iiiireader haven't already said in their excellent thorough reviews. However, this coloring book is far too beautiful to not say how much I love it. It's the second book by Christian Art Gifts I have bought the quality is as good as it gets. Every image is gorgeous printed one sided on card stock. There is a large variety of images, I'm currently working on one of a basket of decorated eggs, an Easter type image. It's a thick book, with the addition of a piece of thick cardboard in the back of the book it allows you to hold it in your lap while coloring if you want to. The punch outs are a beautiful bonus. As in their coloring book "The Gift of Angels," the images are whimsical in style. This book would make an excellent gift for friends family who enjoy coloring, is worth more than the $10 I paid for it. Buy a copy, you won't be disappointed. Excellent in all ways.

Relax and express your creative soul as you fill the Artist's, Chanelle Correia, delightfully whimsical ink drawings with color. Rediscover the soothing, meditative effect of coloring and share the pleasure by inviting others to join you - the tear-off pages make this a shareable pastime. The extra-heavy art paper makes your artwork suitable for display. You'll find themes for all seasons. Create colorful mobiles, ornaments, bookmarks or rear-view mirror decorations with the punch-out craft pages. The book is bound in heavy-duty stock with lavish applications of spot-varnish and silver foiling.
