I am thinking of getting the same materials, add a "wild card" and see what I come up with. I love the variety and the talented artists are inspiring.8 of 9 people found the following review helpful. Jewelry Design ChallengeBy B. BriggsIf you're into jewelry, you will enjoy one of Lark publications latest efforts, "Jewelry Design Challenge" by Linda Kopp. In this book, thirty well-known metalsmiths and jewelry artists from around the country were given packages containing ten identical materials (copper and sterling silver sheet, sterling tubing, copper washers, leather cord, copper and sterling wire, fine silver mesh, and several black and white pearls) and asked to create a piece using as many of the provided materials as they wished, and as an aside, they were allowed to use one extra material, a "wild card" so to speak, of their choice that was not provided in the kit. What a fun concept! The diversity of the finished projects was amazing. "This book proved to be very entertaining and insightful and I highly recommend it to anyone who has an appreciation of one-of-a-kind and limited edition art jewelry. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Design Challenge By Wendy Shaw I ordered it because of one particular project and for that I like it. The artists were given a challenge and I find it very interesting how each one puts forth a different project with the same materials.

Thirty leading popular jewelry designers received a box containing nine jewelry supplies with the request that they create a piece using only those items, plus one wild card material of their choice. This book presents their show-stopping designs, complete with excellent how-to steps for making them, for an amazing compendium of inspiration and projects for jewelers and crafters alike. Featured designers include Todd Reed, Thomas Mann, Mary Hettmansperger, Deb Karash, Joanna Gollberg, Tim McCreight, Candie Cooper, Bob Ebendorf, Robert Dancik, Boris Bally, Biba Schutz, Colleen Baran, Davide Bigazzi, Danielle Miller-Gilliam, Pauline Warg, Marcia Macdonald, Sydney Lynch, Jennaca Davies, Annie Chau, Ross Coppelman, Sarah Hood, Kathy Frey, Eric Silva, Rebecca Hannon, Tod Pardon, Kristen Lora, Chihiro Makio, Janette Schuster, Sara Westermarck, and Marlene True -- an all-star line-up for creative inspiration!

"In Jewelry Design Challenge, the task was simple: send 30 top jewelry designers the same nine materials. The designers were to create a new jewelry piece using these materials plus one wild-card option. The results are astonishing. Using ordinary materials like a small sterling square, a copper sheet, tubing, pearls, washers, 20-gauge wire, silver mesh, and leather cord, designers such as Thomas Mann and Robert Dancik set out to make something extraordinary. The variation in designs is truly incredible. If you're looking for imaginative ways to stretch your supplies, pick this up and prepare to be inspired." - Belle Armoire Jewelry
