Her story inspires all ages!3 of 7 people found the following review helpful. Not for sensitive children - screen it (I didn't).By LGJust came from comforting my sweet 8-yr-old, who was playing with this coloring book earlier in the day. She was crying, frightened, in bed, because the story had scared her. I confess I hadn't read it, but since it came home from her Catholic school, I assumed it was okay. It's a frightening, violent story, especially for a little girl. There is time to deal with the explicit stuff (torture, a lance through the base of her skull, etc) when children are older and better able to understand. I am certain our Lord does not want children frightened in this way. We can stick to the uplifting stories until they're past the age of coloring books, I think.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Review from the PublisherBy A CustomerColoring book that tells the incredible story of the 12-year-old Christian girl martyred by the Roman Emperor for her faith and whose tomb was discovered in 1802. Includes the beautiful story of Pauline Jericot, who was cured at her shrine. 32pp. PB. Imprimatur.
